MEDICINAL.

"Crying for the Moon"

Has become a proverbial phrase to express the futility of mere desire. There are a great many people who think it is as useless to hope for health as to cry for the moon. They have tried many medicines and many doctors, but all in vain.

A great many hopeless men and women have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; people with obstinate coughs, bleeding lungs, night-sweats and other symptoms of disease which if neglected or unskillfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption. "Golden Medical Discovery" has a wonderful healing power. It increases the nutrition of the body, and so gives strength to throw off disease. It cleanses the blood from poisonous impurities and enriches it with the red corpuscles of health. It is not a stimulant, but a strength giving medicine. It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

Sometimes the extra profit paid by inferior medicines tempts the dealer to offer a substitute as "just as good" as "Discovery." If you are convinced that "Discovery" will cure you accept nothing else. I was in poor health when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine, writes Mr. Elmer Lawler, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Indiana. "I had stomach, kidney, heart, and nervous ailments, and that straightened me up. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced coughing right away. Took about six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' then, and last spring I had Grippe, and it settled on my lungs, leaving me with a severe cough. I had the doctor, but he didn't seem to help me any; so I commenced on your medicine again and took three or four bottles and I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."

EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Within a very few years one of the great sights of the National Capital will be a perfectly appointed farm of 400 acres, with buildings, orchards, truck gardens, and grain fields of every kind. All the fruits and vegetables of the United States or other countries which experiment shall prove to be capable of cultivation in this climate will be seen there. Systems of drainage and, if necessary, irrigation, model fencing, the most perfect methods of gathering and storing grain, fruits and vegetables will be exhibited. In addition there will be a home place of six acres, where beautiful lawns, pretty shrubbery in artistic design, and suitable shade trees will give a lesson to the suburban resident, as well as to the owner of the plantation in the beautifying of dwellings and their surroundings in the country.

To the scientific agriculturists and horticulturists this model farm, which will be made and maintained by the Department of Agriculture, will offer an opportunity for study in every branch of their science. Methods of cultivation of fruit trees, cereals, the growing of grapes, the value of different kinds of fertilizers will all be exhibited directly in the farm or in the records of its existence, which will be kept for reference.

To the general public the farm will offer a beautiful sight. Along its broad shaded avenues the casual sighter may drive or walk through peach and apple orchards, through vineyards and through fields of waving grain, and may seek shade and pleasant rest on the grassy lawns about the farm house and its outbuildings.

The site selected for bringing this project to a reality is that portion of the Arlington estate which lies along the bank of the Potomac to the east of the main estate, now used as a cemetery. The McClellan gate to Arlington will be opposite the main gate to the farm, and the latter will occupy all of that rolling land between the river road to the east of Arlington and the river bank. It is already partially laid out, and this work will be continued. About the center of the big farm a plot of six acres will be reserved for the dwelling, barns, &c., and this portion will be treated from an artistic as well as a utilitarian standpoint.

Prof. L. C. Corbett, of the Department of Agriculture, is in charge of the work. The soil is a sandy loam and quite rich. The site was cultivated for a number of years by squatters, who raised garden truck and fertilized the land quite heavily. There are very few trees on the place. For some time past it has been the pasture ground for the mules belonging to the army post at Fort Myer.

Men are now at work plowing up the whole place and planting cow peas. These will grow heavily by fall, when they will be plowed under, and rye will then be sown, which will also be plowed under when green next spring. This will provide a uniform fertilizer for the whole place, and give a foundation for future work. Next fall the fruit and shade trees will be set out and everything will be done as soon as possible, that the farm may take form in the least possible time.

The six-acre lot in the center Prof. Corbett intends to make a thing of beauty. It will be a park about the main buildings, and all around will be planted typical ornamental trees and shrubbery. It will be an object lesson in landscape gardening.

A principal feature will be experiments in the cultivation of every fruit or vegetable now imported from other countries with a view to determining what can be raised here and the best method of cultivation. This branch will include vegetables of all kinds, fruits, hops, muskmelons, watermelons, squashes, grapes, forage crops, and imported cereals such as wheat and oats, &c.

The cultivation of fruit and experiments to discover what are the needs of each variety will be studied. The value of fertilizers and cross-fertilization will also be studied. Culture tests will be made of such crops as are planted to cover the ground after cereals have been reaped, such as vetches, clovers, and new leguminous plants.

Horticulturists will be able to study here foreign plants and other problems which they cannot find the subjects to observe in their own States. Some of the important experiments will be conducted in the cultivation of buckberries, which have never been cultivated, though they are extensively canned every year in Maine. The farm will be devoted exclusively to horticultural demonstrations and experiments. The interest for the general public will lie in the methods of cultivation and the large variety of agricultural plants and fruit trees which will be seen on the farm. In seven years the orchards of all kinds will be bearing, including the apple trees, which come to maturity latest. The vineyards will be yielding grapes within three years and the pear trees will bear fruit in five years.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

A powerful engine can't be run with a weak boiler; and you can't expect to keep up the wear and strain of an active life with a weak stomach. Our boilers, or rather our stomachs, can't be replaced, and we cannot stop the human machinery while making repairs. But when the stomach is unable to digest enough food to keep the body strong, we can use such a preparation as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat, so that you can eat all the good food you want, without any distress after eating.

"After forty years of suffering from indigestion, a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cured me."—Amel Bell, Fredonia, Pa.

It can't help but do you good

When you need a soothing and healing application for piles, sores and skin diseases, use DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of counterfeits.
